CHINA'S GREAT LOSS.

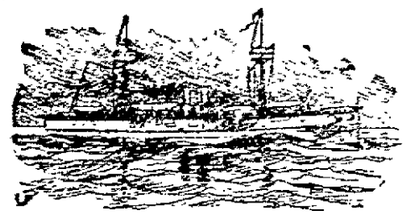

Destruction of the Chen Yuen Officially Confirmed.

THE GREATEST CHINESE WARSHIP

Destroyed by a Torpedo Placed by Chinamen Themselves—An Agent of the Chinese Government Goes to Japan to Sue for Peace.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Chinese have lost the finest and most powerful vessel of their navy—the great battleship Chen Yuen, which stood the brunt of the fighting at Yalu. The official news came to the navy department yesterday in a cablegram. It states that the Chen Yuen in leaving Wei-Hai-Wei harbor on the 18th inst. accidentally struck a torpedo. She was beached, but was rendered useless for lack of docking facilities. In despair at the catastrophe the commander, Commodore Lin, committed suicide.

The Chen Yuen was a magnificant fighting machine, very much like our own battleship Maine. She was built in Europe in 1882, and was of 7,430 tons displacement.

It would appear from the brief statement of facts in the cablegram that the ship fell a victim to one of the torpedoes planted by the Chinese themselves to guard the entrance to Wei-Hai-Wei, which was the last of the great naval strongholds of the empire save Port Arthur, now tottering to its fall.

It was as well that Commodore Lin committed suicide, for he would doubtless have been decapitated as the result of his error.

It is believed here that this loss has deprived the Chinese navy of its offensive power. There remains the Ting Yuen, another powerful battleship, and a few lesser ironclads, but without the aid of the Chen Yuen they would hardly dare to make an offensive campaign, and probably will remain in port to assist in the defense.

The departure of the Chinese customs chief for Japan is regarded by officials here as the result of Japan's demand for a direct offer from China. The De Ting mentioned in the cable is said to be Dietring, a German, who occupies the position of commissioner of customs. That he should be sent as the peace envoy is accounted for by officials on the ground that an indemnity would probably be secured on the customs receipts of China. It is said that the Chinese envoy will probably be the guest of United States Minister Dun at Tokio. Japanese officials say he will be accorded every courtesy.

CHINA SUING FOR PEACE.

Has Sent an Agent to Japan with That Object in View.

TIENTSIN, Nov. 23.—The chief of the imperial customs here, De Ting, who was recently summoned to Pekin in order to confer with the government as to ways and means for raising money for the war, has left for Japan in order to arrange terms of peace.

It is said that China has intimated her willingness to pay an indemnity of 100,000,000 taels and, in addition, pay all the war expenses incurred by Japan. As the war expenses reach 150,000,000 taels, the total offer of China would be 250,000,000 taels. The tael is a Chinese silver coin worth about seventy-five cents at the present exchange, so that the whole payment would be approximately $175,000,000. It is believed arrangements between the two nations could be effected on terms providing for a smaller war indemnity.

A Shanghai dispatch says that the efforts of foreigners to reach the Chinese wounded meet with small success. The wounded Chinese mostly remain at Simenting, between New Chang and Moukden, the state of the country preventing the Chinese medical staff and the foreign volunteers from proceeding there. Some wounded stragglers have reached Moukden and New Chang, and some of them have even reached Tientsin, where they have been attended to. But no succor has reached the main body of the Chinese wounded.

All the foreigners have left Moukden. A portion of the road between Tientsin and Pekin is occupied by Hounanese troops and this locality is becoming unpleasant for travelers.

The Catholic fathers remain at their stations in Manchuria, but the Protestants have returned. The latter report that the Chinese soldiers fought most stubbornly under General Sung, and they add that if the Chinese had good leaders they would certainly repel the Japanese.

Reliable information received here from Port Arthur shows that there has been a sharp battle at that place. The first attack of the Japanese drove in the Chinese outposts. Three other attacks were subsequently made, but in each instance the Japanese were repulsed. Heavy and incessant firing has been going on since noon Tuesday. The Japanese are landing additional troops. They warned a British vessel to clear, as their fleets intended to bombard the forts.

THE ARMENIAN ATROCITIES.

First Reports Fully Confirmed—Over Two Thousand Christians Massacred.

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—M. H. Cudiasan, secretary of the United Friends of Armenia, has received a letter from a friend dated Sason, west of Bitlis, Oct. 3, in which he gives an account of the massacre of his fellow countrymen and women, which in details corroborates the account cabled to the Associated Press. He states that thousands have been hacked to pieces, and that in one instance seven men were covered with kerosene and set on fire. On another occasion twenty women, with their children, were in a church with a priest, on their knees imploring the commandant to have mercy on them. Because they refused to renounce the Christian religion and return to Mohammedanism they were killed. It is known that 2,000 Armenians were massacred.

Knights of Labor Legislation.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—Knights of Labor had a busy session yesterday. Resolutions were adopted that each local assembly shall make a maximum scale of wages above the regular scale adopted by the National Trades assembly; that the legislatures of the various states be memorialized to enact laws providing for the erection of state labor bureaus; that all tradesmen shall affiliate with organizations of their own trade; that in labor parades no flags except the national colors shall be carried. A resolution making ex-representatives to the general assembly eligible as officers was defeated.

The French Representative Insulted.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 23.—Mail advices that have reached here from Madagascar show that the arrival at Antanarivo of M. le Myre de Vilers, the special envoy to present the demands of France to the Malagassy government, was marked by the outbreak of robberies and incendiary fires. The government made no effort to repress the disorder. The agents of the firm of Rebut & Sarrante, on the west coast of Madagascar, have been murdered by natives with assegais and their stores sacked. One of the victims was a Frenchman and the other a native of the Island of Mauritius.

Sicily's Earthquake Victims.

ROME, Nov. 23.—Signor Galli, the royal commissioner appointed to visit the districts affected by the earthquakes, reports that in Reggio he found only twenty houses that had entirely escaped damage. The interiors of whole rows of houses in a space of 300 yards long were completely wrecked. Crowds of homeless women and children are wandering about their ruined dwellings, wringing their hands and weeping bitterly. The persons injured by falling ceilings and otherwise are being attended to in the open square.

Body Snatchers Held for Trial.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 23.—The Cotner University medicos, Professors J. W. Ward and D. S. Meehan, A. S. Ross, D. H. Roberts, B. J. Alexander, J. A. Burford and J. E. Walter, arrested Wednesday night on a charge of body snatching, were arraigned yesterday before County Judge Lansing. Chancellor Dungan was added to the list yesterday. The party asked for a continuance, and the case was set for the 30th inst., and they were released on bonds of $500 each.

Steamboat War at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—The opposition to the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway company, which was recently started by the Wheeler Steamboat company, promises to develop into a steamboat war that will be carried on until a decided victory is won. Trappe Landing will be one of the wharves where the fight will be waged. The fight is owing to the Wheeler company entering the territory of two lines consolidated into the other company.

A New Jersy Postoffice Robbed.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Nov. 23.—The postoffice and general store of Thomas Craig, at Buttsville, was entered by burglars during the night. The safe was blown open and several hundred dollars in money and goods were taken. A watchman who heard the explosion was overpowered by the thieves and bound. The watchman was released by some people when they visited the postoffice. No trace can be found of the burglars.

Oklahoma Wants Statehood.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 23.—A call has been issued by the chairman of the Democratic territorial executive committee for a statehood convention to be held Nov. 28 at El Reno. Democrats, Republicans and Populists are bending their energies towards gaining this point, and the present outlawry and depredations and the favorable report of the Dawes commission will be put forward as two most formidable arguments.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Sold by J. E. Mills, Middletown, N. Y.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Leading Citizens of Oklahoma in Jail on the Capital Charge.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 23.—William Gill, sheriff of Potawottomie county; S. J. Scott, editor of the Tecumseh Herald; ex-Postmaster P. Armstrong, and Daniel Brestman, prominent men of Tecumseh, were lodged in the United States jail yesterday on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Three years ago Steve Penasaw was shot and killed in the Kikapoo reservation by three deputy marshals, who claimed to have mistaken him for a horse thief they were chasing. Penasaw's friends, aided by the government, however, believed differently. They have never ceased working on the case, and as a result George Howells, one of the deputies who did the shooting, was last week convicted of the murder. From evidence obtained from him and through other sources the United States grand jury has indicted the men brought in yesterday, it being charged they hired the deputies to shoot Penasaw, who was an important witness in several cases pending against them.

Death of General Gibson.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 23.—General Gibson died at 6 o'clock last evening, aged 72 years. General W. H. Gibson was at one time a prominent candidate for governor of Ohio, and he was mentioned for the office of commissioner of pensions in 1889. He was born in Ohio in 1822, raised as a farmer's boy, learned the trade of carpenter, and while working at the bench managed to go to school and to study law. He was admitted to the bar and practiced his profession until the breaking out of the civil war. He raised a regiment and went to the front as colonel, soon became a brigadier general, and at the end of the war was breveted brigadier general. He has participated in twelve presidential campaigns as a campaign speaker for the Republicans.

Fighting for a Dead Man's Body.

OTTAWA, Kan., Nov. 23.—Charles and Henry Lathrop, Ottawa business men, who were out for a time, struck the wrong house, kicking at the door of Mr. Sherman. Charles was shot dead and Henry seriously wounded by young Ben Sherman. The coroner gave the corpse to Undertaker Sessions, which so enraged an opposition undertaker that he stabbed Sessions. Sessions wound is serious. Mrs. Lathrop wanted Undertakers Miller & Chalmes to direct the funeral, but Clark & Sessions having gotten possession from Dr. Ewing the coroner refused to give the body up. Hence the second tragedy.

The Men Excluded.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23.—The executive committee of the Women's Christian Temperance union held a post-convention meeting yesterday lasting until far into the evening. The most important matter that came up was a resolution to admit men to full membership in the young ladies' branch. The decision reached was that such a change was inexpedient, inasmuch as when the proper time arrived the Women's Christian Temperance union itself should admit men to membership and eliminate the word "women's" from its name in case anything of the kind was deemed expedient.

The Steamer Corean Safe.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 23.—The Allan line steamer Corean, Captain Main, which arrived here yesterday from Glasgow and Liverpool, encountered most frightful weather, and had many narrow escapes from foundering. The decks were repeatedly swept from stem to stern and everything moveable was swept overboard. It was impossible to keep the engines going, and for three days the steamer lay hepless in the trough of the sea. In spite of the severity of the weather all on board are well, and beyond the damage on deck the steamer appears to be in a sound condition.

Suing an Investment Company.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 23.—Suit for conspiracy has been entered by Mattie Greenwald against Richard H. Mitchell, of Pittsburg, against the Fidelity Building Loan and Investment company, of Washington. The plaintiff charges that she was induced to deposit money with the association under a promise that after two years she would receive her capital with interest at 6 per cent. and accrued dividends. The two years expired last week, but when she presented her claim she was told that the association would pay but fifty cents on the dollar.

Our New Treaty with Japan.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—There is good reason to believe that Secretary Gresham and Minister Kurino yesterday afternoon added the finishing touches to the new treaty between the United States and Japan, and that the document now awaits only the ratification of the senate and of the Japanese government, the latter being almost beyond question. The new treaty abolishes after about five years the system of consular court jurisdiction which has been so obnoxious to Japan, and also treats of commerce and trade relations.

AGAINST THE CHINAMEN.

Important Decision by Commissioner Shields in New York.

LEE YUEN MUST GO BACK TO CHINA.

He Had Lived in This Country for a Number of Years, and Represented Himself as a Merchant on Returning from a Visit to His Native Land.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Commissioner Shields has rendered a decision in the case of Lee Yuen which will have a far reaching effect on Chinamen in this country. He held Lee Yuen for deportation on the ground that he was a Chinese laborer previous to his departure for China, and since his return to this city. Lee Yuen lived in this city for a number of years. He went to China about two years ago, and returned last January by way of Canada.

He passed through the customs agents at Burlington, Vt., and came to this city, where he worked as a cigarmaker until June. The law permits Chinese merchants to return to the country, but excludes laborers. Lee Yuen's lawyers made a strong effort to show that Lee Yuen was partner in a business in Mott street.

The commissioner's order of deportation is based upon a decision rendered last month by Judge Coxe, defining a merchant as one engaged in the business of buying and selling, who does not engage in any other kind of work.

Agent Scharf says he will now arrest 300 Chinamen whose situations are like that of Lee Yuen.

The Mob Threatened Violence.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 23.—Ex-Congressman Mills Gardner, of Washington Court House, in testifying before the Coit court of inquiry gave a graphic description of his effort to dissuade men from breaking in the court house door. They threatened him with violence. Dr. Howell testified to the effect that a wounded man to whom he gave surgical attention said: "This is what I got for trying to get at the nigger." William E. Cook testified to information which had been given him to the effect that before the riot it was decided to burn a barn to attract attention while the jail was being stormed. The fire occurred according to program.

An Indian Chief Admits Murder.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 23.—A surprise was sprung in the trial of Little Thunder, who, with Roman Nose, both Cheyennes, are charged with killing William Breeding and wounding a man named Cotter last spring. After several witnesses had sworn that Little Thunder had done the shooting Chief Hill, of the Cheyenne tribe, took the stand and swore that he himself fired the fatal shots after the white men had shot and wounded him. He declared the accused Indians were not present at the time.

Fitzsimmons Exonerated.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The inquest over the body of Cornelius Riordan, the prize fighter, who became unconscious while sparring with Bob Fitzsimmons on Friday night last and died a few hours later, was held here last night. The jury, which was composed of some of the representative business men of the town, brought in a verdict exonerating Fitzsimmons.

The Czar Winning Golden Opinions.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—At a meeting of the state council on Wednesday the czar created a highly favorable impression by a display of unexpected oratorical fluency and his masterly grasp of the political questions submitted for his judgment. His majesty is winning golden opinions on all sides by showing that he is fully equal to his position.

To Take the New Loan.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—President Stewart, of the United States Trust company, announces that subscriptions to the full amount of the new gold loan will be made by banks and other financial institutions of this city. The bid will not be made by a syndicate, but will be at the same price, the figures of which are withheld.

To Push Coal Production.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 23.—It is rumored in coal circles here that the Central Railroad of New Jersey will mine and carry all the coal it possibly can to tidewater. In spite of denials, it is also claimed that the Central has recently come into possession of valuable mines in the Lehigh region.

Use It in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing, an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

It Cured Mother and Daughter.

BETHANY, N. Y., June 3, 1885.—"Since my wife commenced the use of Gilmore's wine she has steadily improved, until now her health is restored. She says she cannot keep house without this wine. It also cured my daughter, who was troubled with suppression of the menses. She had run over ten weeks and took only one bottle before she was cured."—Philip G. Burke. All druggists sell Gilmore's Aromatic Wine at $1 per bottle.

CONVICTED OF CONSPIRACY.

Seven Miners Who Wilfully Destroyed a Tipple and Other Property.

RIDGWAY, Pa., Nov. 23.—The seven miners charged with conspiracy to burn and burning the tipple at the Paine mines last June during the strike were found guilty by the jury yesterday. Ed Fox and Leo Wurm pleaded guilty to the charge of placing explosives under a building, which was all that was charged against them. The other five—Frank Myers, Ludwig Rosenbeck, Joseph Kreitle, William Geitner and Wassel Swintner—were found guilty of all charges of the indictment, which accused them of burning and consenting to the crime. Frank Myers was the man who agreed or offered to do the act when it was proposed.

At a meeting of eighteen miners who had gone to Paine mine on June 10 to induce the men to quit who were supposed to be at work, it was proposed to kill their employer, but that was voted down. A second proposition to burn the tipple was unanimously carried, and the query as to who was to do the act was settled by Myers volunteering to do the deed. The men then ran a score or more mine cars into the tipple, and they were burned, with much other property.

Massacred by Kanakas.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Australian mail reports are to the effect that the Kanakas of all the islanus near New Guinea are in revolt. Scores of European settlers have been murdered. The steamer Three Cheers, of Sydney, called at the Admiralty islands and found that the trading posts and a trading schooner had been burned. Not a single white man was visible. The natives fled to the hotel on the approach of the steamer. The captain landed and found the remains of a recent cannibal feast. All the whites undoubtedly met with a horrible death. At New Ireland and other islands similar massacres are reported.

Ridout's Matrimonial Misfortunes.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—Albert B. Ridout, when a boy of 17, was married to Virginia Hammond, a woman nearly nine years his senior. He took his bride to his father's home in Frederick county. Six months later she told him that she was the mother of a boy nearly 7 years of age, and the young husband deserted her and came to Baltimore. Later, hearing that she was dead, he married Miss Hattie Gibbs. Three days after the ceremony the young husband learned that his first wife was alive. He immediately informed his second wife and they separated. Yesterday the marriage was declared void.

Explosion in a School House.

UXBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 23.—The steam heating apparatus at the Central school building here exploded yesterday. On the ground floor above the boiler room were fifty children, many of whom were dashed up against the ceiling by the force of the explosion. A large number were severely scalded by the escaping steam and boiling water. The school contained six rooms, and on the upper floors were three classes. A panic ensued, and in trying to escape many were trampled upon. No fatalities are reported, but many children are badly injured.

A Whisky Bottle Told the Story.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Nov. 23.—Thomas Riley, of Burlington, was found drowned on the flats below here. An empty whisky bottle in his boat, aground a few feet away, told the whole story. Riley was about 40 years of age. Several years ago, in a drunken quarrel, he killed Pitman Borden at Burlington, for which he was sentenced to twelve years in the state prison. On his release he refused to return to his home in Burlington, and has been living a hermit life in an old cabin along the creek.

Indications of Many Murders.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 23.—A horrible discovery has just been made near Churintzio, state of Michoacan. Thirty human bodies in an advanced stage of decomposition have been found piled upon one another in a cave. Cleofos Gomez was robbed and murdered for his money recently. Pascaul, a brother, while searching for him made the discovery, which apparently explains many mysterious disappearances of persons in the neighborhood.

Bill Cook Still at Large.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 23.—Deputy Marshal Smith has telegraphed the marshal's office from Wichita Falls, Tex., that one of the four captured suspects arrested yesterday is the famous "Skeeter" of the Cook gang, but Bill Cook is not of the party. The other men under arrest are Charles Turner, William Farris and Jesse Snyder, who robbed McDermott's store and postoffice in the Cherokee nation recently. They are all dangerous robbers.

A Point for the Obstinate Witnesses.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The court of appeals of the District of Columbia granted the motion of counsel for Messrs. Chapman and Macartney, the indicted recalcitrant sugar trust investigation witnesses, for an appeal from the recent decision of Judge Cole, holding that they are liable to punishment for refusal to answer questions put by the senate committee. The date for hearing arguments on the appeal has not yet been fixed.

LAWYER HOWE ON HAND.

He Appears in Philadelphia to Answer to Conspiracy Charges.

HIS CONNECTION WITH THE CASE.

He Claims That He Acted in a Strictly Legal Manner and in Good Faith—Out on Bail—He Refuses to Talk About Holmes, the Chief Conspirator.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Young Lawyer Howe, charged with complicity in the Holmes-Pitezel insurance swindle, arrived here yesterday. He had accompanied Lawyer McDonald as far east from St. Louis as Harrisburg, and there he switched off and went down the Northern Central road to Washington. He reached this city shortly after noon. Lawyer McDonald secured A. S. L. Shields to act as counsel for the accused lawyer, and subsequently he was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000. Howe does not look over the 22 years of age McDonald says he is.

To a number of reporters Howe told what he thought proper about his connection with the mystery. He said:

"This woman, Mrs. Pitezel, came to me and employed me as her attorney to look after this insurance claim. I took hold of the matter, and, first of all, I think I notified the agent of the Fidelity company in St. Louis, and he, I believe, entered into communication with the company here. I wrote to the chief of police in Philadelphia, and I think also to the company or the coroner. It is my belief I wrote to the coroner first. I heard from him, and I also heard from Chief of Police Linden.

"The first letter received from the coroner stated that the body was here and that it must be identified. The writer said that it was the body of B. F. Perry, and unless other identification was given the body would bear that name and be buried as such. I asked the widow how that was, and she said her husband had been going under the assumed name of Perry on account of some trouble he had had. I told her that would have to be made clear before she could get the money.

"She showed me a number of letters she had received from this Perry, which seemed to prove reasonably enough that they were from her husband, inasmuch as they spoke of the children and of family matters. She was positive that the man was her husband. I told her she would have to prepare to come on here with me and that I had to come. Then I believe I got a letter from the coroner saying we must give positive identification marks, something by which we could prove that the body was Pitezel's.

"I thereupon called the woman in and told her she must give what identification marks she could that would assist the company in bringing out the identity of her husband, and I read her the coroner's letter. She told me of these marks, and I sent the information to the coroner and received information from him that they were not sufficient. I told the widow then that we must come on here and identify the body, and she said the little girl could do that. I brought the little girl on here and the body was identified to the company's satisfaction and to mine.

"The company paid the money to me and I returned to St. Louis and got a receipt in full from my client, Mrs. Pitezel, for the amount of money, and I gave her a receipt for my fee. The latter was $2,500. That was the last I saw of her."

Mr. Howe was asked what he had to say about his connection with Holmes in the matter.

"I do not desire to say anything about that at this time," he replied, "nor about several other matters with which my name has been connected. Much will depend upon the manner of my treatment by President Fouse and the general nature of the proceedings here."

HOLMES' CHICAGO RECORD.

Swindled People Through the Sale of Patent Copier Agents.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Yesterday it became known that Holmes was the head of what purported to be an incorporation called the A. B. C. Copier company, with headquarters at the Monon building, on Dearborn street. The copying machine which Holmes sold was not without merit, but the sale of territory to agents was the chief source of revenue.

Holmes would advertise throughout the country and obtain a correspondence with people all over the country. Then the victim would be persuaded to visit the city, and would be ushered into an office apparently rushed with business. Finally a proposition would be made for the disposal of some state or county, and a deal consummated. It is said that the state of Ohio sold for $5,000 cash, and that an office was established in Cincinnati.

Both of the Dakotas and a majority of the western states were disposed of. A branch was organized in New York and Holmes was paid $5,000 for the agency in that city. Some states were sold as many times as Holmes could find purchasers. Holmes had in his office two stenographers—one of whom tallied closely with the description of Miss Dirkee, of Omaha, and the other was unquestionably Miss Williams.

THE LADIES OF CHINA

THEY WIELD CONSIDERABLE INFLUENCE IN ORIENTAL POLITICS.

The Dowager Empress Has Mold'ed the Policy of Her Country, and Lady Li Hung Chang Possesses a Superior Education and Accomplishments.

Li Hung Chang has sunk under a weight of woes. It was his misfortune to be prime minister of China when the war with Japan came on. China was beaten at every point, and Li was disgraced. But this was the occasion of bringing out the strong qualities of his wife, Lady or Marchioness Li, to translate her title into its European equivalent. In America she would be thought a lady of inferior education, but in China she is a prodigy indeed, for woman there has been so pressed down by ages of barbaric custom that she can rise even a little only by the most transcendent genius.

It is indeed an extraordinary fact that each of the three countries just now so prominent has one talented woman of great influence in public affairs. The dowager empress of China was born in extreme poverty and sold as a slave at 14, yet she became a favorite of the emperor. Her son succeeded to the throne, and she was practically ruler for many years. The empress of Japan is universally loved for her charities and is a leader in all social reforms and the adoption of western ways. The queen of Korea is of the great Min family, and by her influence kept that family in power many years. There has been a revolution, and the queen has fled, but it is not known where she has taken refuge.

MRS. LI HUNG CHANG.

Lady Li, or Mrs. Li Hung Chang, as we may say, is about 55 years old, but so well preserved that she might pass for 35. She is of pure Tartar blood, of a distinguished Mantchoorian family and shows it in her high cheek bones and marked features, yet she is quite handsome, with large expressive eyes, a happy, genial air and winning manners. As a maiden she was better educated than Chinese ladies generally, and after marriage her husband, contrary to all precedent there, continued her education. In 1880 some missionary doctors admitted to her society were astonished to find that she had considerable knowledge of medicine, understood the European system, and in general information was far superior to most of the mandarins.

Like her husband, she has a great admiration for western ways, and when the native physicians had given her case up as hopeless during a serious illness she sent for a male and female physician of the American board of foreign missions. They restored her health and strength, and she thereafter did all she could to promote their work.

Li Hung Chang showed his gratitude by fitting up a general dispensary in Tien-tsin, which he presented to the mission, and Lady Li established one exclusively for women and put in charge of it the American lady who had attended her. But they contended in vain with Chinese stupidity and prejudice. The people were taught and believed that the missionaries were poisoners, and the riots of two years ago followed.

Lady Li and her husband live in the suburbs of Tien-tsin near the bank of the Pei-Ho river in an establishment famous for elegance and splendor. The viceroy is one of the richest men in China, and his wife has full control of his income. American and European ladies are often her guests and speak with rapture of the wonderful walks and gardens, the fountains, flowers and fish ponds, the great troops of imperial peacocks, the song birds, curious fishes, botanic collections and ceramic ware illustrating Chinese art in all ages. Here the ladies of the imperial court enjoy themselves in voluptuous seclusion. But just outside the gates and everywhere else in China is the awful misery. Ninety nine out of every hundred Chinese women are pressed down almost to the level of soulless automatons.

Even Lady Li shuffles about on mere stumps of feet, deformed in her childhood like all the rest, and when she takes the air in her magnificent gardens has to be carried in a chair litter. Yet she has a beautiful complexion, bathes twice a day in oil of orange and acacia blooms, is artistic in her toilet and dresses her hair in 50 different ways. Such is China—boundless prodigality and dainty luxury for a very few, unending toil and misery for the many.

The present empress of China is young and apparently without character. The aged dowager is a woman of extraordinary talent. Fifty years ago she was Yin Ling, the pretty child of a poor family in Canton. In a famine they sold her to get food for the rest. She became a slave in a wealthy family and eventually in the palace at Peking. The emperor was charmed with her, she became one of his auxiliary wives, and in 1854 bore him a son. As an infant that son became emperor, with his mother as regent.

FROM CLERK TO PRESIDENT.

Rise In Life of D. W. Caldwell, President of the Lake Shore Road.

D. W. Caldwell began his railroad career 42 years ago as a clerk in the office of the Pennsylvania railroad. Today he is president of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern. Mr. Caldwell was born in Massachusetts in 1830 and at the age of 22 turned his ambitious mind to railroading. After a year's clerkship he entered the civil engineering department of the road and remained there three years.

D. W. CALDWELL.

His very apparent talent for the railroad business and his executive ability then led to his securing the office of general superintendent of the Pittsburg and Connellsville railroad. In 1859 he became general superintendent of the Central Ohio railroad, an office he filled until 1874, when he resigned to accept a more advantageous position as general manager of the Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central, the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis, the Little Miami, the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley, the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis and the Vandalia roads.

He held this important position until 1881, when the Pennsylvania road again employed him, not as clerk, but as general manager of all the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg. In 1882 he was elected vice president of the Nickel Plate road. He was appointed receiver later, and when the road was reorganized in 1887 he was elected president. He pursued a cut rate policy that caused considerable comment in railroad circles, but during his regime, which ended very recently, he succeeded in raising the road from a condition of almost hopeless bankruptcy to a place among the sound roads of the east. He resides in Cleveland and although a bachelor is a very liberal entertainer.

A NEW BELLAMY COLONY.

Nationalism to Receive a Practical Demonstration at Beltzhoover, Pa.

The Bellamy Co-operative association of Beltzhoover, Pa., is to found a colony in Beltzhoover, and the cornerstone was recently laid by Mrs. Samuel Duncan Karns, wife of Dunc Karns, an oil region pioneer who was at one time worth millions. The colonists will endeavor to carry out Edward Bellamy's theories of nationalism.

There are 14 full and 50 associate members of the colony, and the full members are to do the work at present and receive their pay in colony certificates at the rate of 25 cents an hour. These certificates authorize the holder to draw a proportionate share of the products of the association. The associate members will give their aid in either money or labor while they are on probation and will be entitled to all the privileges of the colony except the privilege of voting. When they are believed to have absorbed the true principles of Bellamy nationalism, they will be received into full membership. The association owns nine building lots, which were deeded the colony by Edward White, one of the members, in exchange for colony certificates. No money will be used by the colonists except in their dealings with the outside world, and they will build houses and manufacture different articles as a means of livelihood.

Dunc Karns, who displays such an interest in the colony, was an oil region character almost as celebrated as Coal Oil Johnny. He was born at Karns Station, in Butler county, Pa., 51 years ago, was boring for oil in West Virginia before the war, entered the United States army at the age of 17, fought throughout the rebellion and left the service a first lieutenant. After the war he returned to the oil business, and at one time he had an income of $5,000 a day from a single oil well. Dunc was fond of champagne, and whenever he made a rich strike he would smash every silk hat in town and pay for them the next day. He was at one time considered worth $3,000,000, but lost nearly all his money fighting the Standard Oil company.

Important to Men of Fashion.

"I beg of the young men that still wear very long frock coats and think themselves well dressed to stop it at once," says The Saunterer in Town Topics. "The long frock coat has been out of fashion for weeks, and London coats are now made extremely short, ending above the knee and branching out like a ballerina's skirts. This notice should be put up in all clubs. I see that even some of the Knickerbocker men are still clinging to their last winter freak frock coats, with skirts that all but scrape the ground. And I suppose everybody has seen the new London derby hat. It is as flat as a pancake and looks considerably like a fried egg."

THE ONWARD MARCH

of Consumption is stopped short by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If you haven't waited beyond reason, there's complete recovery and cure. In those scrofulous conditions of the blood which invite Consumption; in severe, lingering Coughs, and Weak Lungs, this medicine is a proved remedy.

MISS M. H. SNEED.

Mrs. SARAH S. SNEED, of Clio, Iredell Co., N. C., writes: "My daughter was first attacked with pneumonia and pleurisy in very bad form and was then taken with a very bad cough, which kept growing worse and worse, until finally it seemed as though she had consumption very bad. The physicians prescribed Cod liver oil, but to no benefit. I procured two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she grew better. She hasn't felt any return of lung disease in over twelve months. She was nothing but a skeleton when she took the first dose, and to-day she weighs 135 pounds."

A VICTORY FOR PASKOLA

It Receives the Official Endorsement of Eminent Experts and a Jury of Representative Citizens.

The suit brought by Ohio's Food Commissioner against a Cincinnati druggist for selling Paskola on the ground that it was nothing but glucose, resulted in a great victory for Paskola and a verdict against the State.

During the course of the trial, Prof. Shaller of the University of Cincinnati, testified that Paskola was not glucose, and even if it was, it would be harmless. He also bore witness to its activity as a digestive agent.

Prof. Wm. Dickore of the Miami College, testified to the same facts. So did Prof. Schmidt, the chemist of the Board of Health, Prof. Wm. Hoffman and others.

A practical test was made in court, showing the digestive action of Paskola on eggs and meats of various kinds, whereas glucose under precisely the same conditions produced no effect whatever.

This test but confirmed the expert's statements and proved Paskola to be of great value in indigestion and wasting diseases.

This verdict disposes of the malicious attack that has been made against Paskola by interested rivals, and suits have now been brought against the proprietors of a well-known emulsion of cod liver oil for having given wide circulation to a false formula and other misrepresentations regarding it.

The animus of this attack will be the better understood when it is stated that Paskola is being largely used in the place of cod liver oil.

FINANCIAL UPS AND DOWNS SINCE THE WAR.

While there have been prosperous times for the American people in the period dating from the close of the War of Rebellion, and while it is true that millionaires have greatly multiplied, and that even multi-millionaires are now more numerous in the land than were possessors of half a million before that great strife set in, upon the whole the great body of the people have had a hard road to travel since it came to an end. It has been a sort of game of nine-pins with them, for no sooner had they got upon their feet, after one period of adversity, than something came along and knocked them over again.

The clash of arms was scarcely over with, the atmosphere was hardly cleared of the smell of the gunpowder burned in fratricidal strife, when the then Secretary of the Treasury, Hugh McCullough, commenced withdrawing greenbacks from circulation, and he kept at it until Congress, finding everybody and everything was going to smash, put an end to currency contraction. This action was hailed with delight, and almost instantly business took upon itself new confidence. From the very depths of depression a boom set in, which lasted with scarcely a break some seven years, when came upon us that awful experience, the panic of 1873, which left in its wake a greater number of financial corpses than panic had ever before laid low. For nearly six years that catastrophe lingered with us, blighting and withering like a deadly curse; and it was not until specie resumption was brought about, in 1879, that better times set in.

Again things went along swimmingly, but not for long, as scarcely more than five years had elapsed when, in 1884, panic had us again in its coils, with frightful consequences to banking and corporate interests and private fortunes. That convulsion did not entail upon us the long lingering effects which followed the panic of 1873, and early in 1886 business was again under full swing, and so continued until the great London banking house of the Barings went down, in 1890, strewing two continents with financial wreckage. Again recovery with us was quick, notwithstanding the blight of that disaster yet lingers in the Old World. But if we got financially well in a few months we didn't stay well very long, for here we are again just getting over the effects of the worst kind of a dump. So, take it all around, we have been having lots of trouble in the last thirty years.

An Old Man Frozen to Death.

Themistocles.

Themistocles, the hero of Salamis, was sent into banishment by the practice of ostracism. This was a purely Athenian device to prevent any citizen becoming too great. When any man acquired such prominence as to be unsafe to the state, a number of citizens demanded a vote, which was taken by writing on shells the name of the too prominent citizen. If a majority voted against him, he was sent into exile, not because he had done anything, but for fear he might do something. He stay away from five to ten years, then returned and resumed his standing as a citizen without loss of property or reputation. Themistocles was ostracized and went into exile, where he was soon accused of treasonable correspondence with the Persians. He was about to be arrested, but fled to Persia. He gained great influence at the Persian court and projected an invasion of Greece, but died, it is supposed by poison, before his plans could be realized.—Exchange

When They Meet and Part.

An Englishman salutes his friend with: "How do you do? Goodby. Farewell." Similarly the Dutchman, "Vaar wel," and the Swede, "Farvel." A Frenchman says "Bonjour! Au plaisir!"—i. e., "de vous revoir." An Italian, "Buon giorno! Addio! A rivederci!" A Spaniard, "Buenos dias! Adios!—Hasta la vista!" (French "Au revoir!") The Turk folds his arms and bows his head toward the person whom he salutes. The common Arab says, "Salem aleikum" ("Peace be with you"). He then lays his hands on his breast in order to show that the wish proceeds from his heart.

A Moral Power.

Queen Victoria is said to have become somewhat fractious, and age is telling on her at last. Irritable as the queen may be under the pangs of rheumatism which now afflict her, no one desires to see her place filled by another. She has kept the balance of moral power in her share of Europe as no crowned head has done before her or will be likely to do after her.—Boston Herald.

Cigarville, N. Y.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for eight months, and am satisfied that it cannot be equaled as a blood purifier and spring tonic. In September I was attacked with a blood disorder; my face was covered with unsightly pimples, and I had been subject to fainting spells for some time. I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon there was a remarkable change in the appearance of my face. The pimples began to heal, and in four months my complexion was as clear and soft as an infant's. Since my fourteenth birthday I have been subject to fainting spells, but since using Hood's Sarsaparilla I have not been troubled with them." DAVID S. MASON, Cigarville, New York.

Children's Clothing Again!

IS it possible that you have already forgotten what we said about children's clothing? If so, we repeat for your especial benefit. 'Twas this: We are selling our entire stock of Children's Clothing without profit. This method we have adopted because we believe that can we once serve you we shall always serve you, feeling assured we can supply you with the best goods at the lowest price attainable. We have marked the prices on the children's goods in plain figures, so you can see for yourself.

To the contrary, as has been insinuated, we are not working off old stock because we sell without profit. The stock is all new, and the same that we would have sold you at a profit had we not adopted this method.

Again:—Is it probable that we make up the profit on the other lines of stock with other clothiers in town, when we sell, as we do, below their rates? How think you?

THE CHARGES AGAINST DR. DARWOOD

Official Notice from Presiding Elder Mickle served on St. Paul's Pastor—Subpœnaing Witnesses for the Trial Dec 4th—Five Charges, Fifteen Specifications.

Rev. Dr. Darwood was, this afternoon, served with the official notice from Presiding Elder Mickle of the charges brought against him by Rev. Edward F. Dewey, of Walton, together with a copy of the charges and specifications.

The trial will take place at St. Paul's Church in this city, on Tuesday, Dec. 4th, commencing at 11 o'clock a. m., before a committee of nine ministers, with Presiding Elder Mickle in the chair.

As has been previously stated in this paper, Rev. Arthur Thompson, of Warwick, has been appointed by the Presiding Elder to prosecute the charges on the part of the church. It is understood that Rev. W. E. Clarke, who presided at the trial of Mrs. Royce, will defend Dr. Darwood.

Rev. Mr. Thompson is in town, today, engaged in subpœnaeing witnesses.

As the papers were originally drawn there were four charges and fourteen specifications, but a fifth charge has been added.

The charges are as follows:

1. Lying—two specifications.
2. Injurious and unchristian words and temper—one specification.
3. Unministerial and immoral conduct—seven specifications.
4. Improper and sinful temper—seven specifications.
5. False swearing—one specification.

AFRAID OF THE CLAIRVOYANT.

A Colored Man Robs a Till and Spends the Money in Riotous Living—His Wife Gets Him Out of the Scrape.

About a week ago five dollars were stolen from the till at the Revere Hotel on East Main street. A young colored man was suspected of the crime, and a day or two afterwards when the bar keeper met him he charged him with it and threatened if he did not return the money to consult a clairvoyant who would tell him all about it.

Shortly afterward the man's wife and another woman came to the hotel, handed over five dollars and begged that he should not be prosecuted.

It was afterwards learned that afterstealing the money the man cut a big swath as long as it lasted. He "set 'em up" for the boys on Fulton street, and then hiring a horse and wagon took a good looking colored girl to Goshen and had a good time.

When threatened with the clairvoyant he appealed to his wife to help him out of the scrape, and she did, in spite of the fact that he spent the money on another woman.

AN O. AND W. STATION BURNED.

The East Branch Depot Totally Destroyed—Fire at Oneida.

The Ontario and Western's station at East Branch was totally destroyed by fire about 8:30 o'clock, last evening. The building, which was erected about eighteen years ago, was a two-story frame structure, the second story of which was occupied by the station agent, C. F. Secord, and family.

Every thing of value in his apartments, and all of the records, tickets, office furniture and all express and freight matter was saved.

The fire is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue. Loss $1,500 on lumber.

The company also sustained a loss by fire at Oneida, on Wednesday night, the southern end of the freight house having been burned, together with a box car which stood on a switch alongside the depot. The contents of the freight house were badly damaged by water.

THE SCHUBERT CLUB CONCERT.

A Very Pronounced Success—Large Attendance—A Fine Programme Admirably Rendered.

The Schubert Club, which gave two very successful concerts, last season, opened its second season by a concert at the First Baptist Church, last night, which was by all odds the most successful ever given by the club. The attendance was large, nearly every seat being occupied. In the audience were all the lovers of good music from this city and a goodly number from out of town.

The club was assisted by the Schumann Male Quartette, of New York, and its numbers and the solos of Mr. S. Fisher Miller and Mr. Grant Odell so delighted the audience that they were all heartily encored. The choruses by the Schubert Club were sung in perfect time and with fine expression and showed careful work by the individual members and thorough drill on the part of its musical director, Mrs. Clarence H. Sweezy. The choruses were all heartily applauded but Mrs. Sweezy consented to only one encore, "Rock-a-bye."

The programme was as follows:

PART I.

1. Gypsy Chorus ..... Balf
2. Sunset ..... Von de Water
   Schumann Male Quartette.
3. Heart Throbs ..... Bendel
4. May Song ..... Ries
   Mr. S. Fisher Miller.
5. Old King Cole ..... Edes

PART II

1. For He Shall Give His Angels ..... Elijah
   Quartette and Club.
2. The Angels At The Window ..... Tours
   Mr Grant Odell.
3. Rock-A-Bye ..... Brown
4. Finland Love Song ..... Engelsberg
   Schumann Male Quartette.
5. Now Is The Month Of Maying .....
   Templeton Strong.

The dates of the other concerts to be given by the club, this season, are Feb. 19th, and May 10th. The Beethoven String Quartette will assist at the February concert and Miss Hilke, dramatic soprano, has been engaged for the May concert.

EXTENDING THE ELLENVILLE BRANCH

Work Soon to Be Begun on the Line to Napanoch—Surveys for Further Extension.

General Manager Childs and Chief Engineer Canfield of the Ontario and Western went to Ellenville, Wednesday evening, and yesterday drove over the proposed extension of the Ellenville branch to Napanoch and down the valley.

The route to Napanoch has been definitely located on the east side of the canal. It is expected that work on the line to Napanoch will be commenced about Jan. 1st. Surveys have been made for an extension of the road down the valley to Alligerville and Creek Locks, and if the managers of the O. and W. are satisfied that enough milk and other business can be secured to warrant the extension of the road it will undoubtedly be continued down the valley in the near future.

A BARROOM ROBBED.

A Quantity of Whiskey and Cigars Stolen from the Bell House Bar.

The barroom of the Bell House was looted, last night, the thieves carrying away a five gallon demijohn of whiskey, several bottles of whiskey and about four hundred cigars. Entrance was gained through the front door by means of a skeleton key or by the help of an expert lockpicker. The door was found open at an early hour, this morning. There is no clue to the burglars.

D. and H. Coal Shipments on the Erie to Be Continued.

The Carbondale Leader denies the published statement that the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company has decided to discontinue coal shipments by the Erie from Honesdale and has made a traffic contract with the Wilkesbarre and Eastern, the Susquehanna and Western's new line to the coal fields. The report is also denied by the Wilkesbarre and Eastern officials.

Unsatisfactory Cars Returned to Their Makers.

The Middletown-Goshen Traction Company, to-day, shipped the first closed cars they used on the road, Nos. 13, 14 and 15 back to the manufacturers at Jewett, Ill. The cars did not meet with the requirements of the specifications and were therefore never accepted by the company.

A Night Ride to Goshen.

PRAISE FOR THE 24TH SEPARATE.

Report of Inspector-General McGrath—Much to Commend and Little to Criticise—Ought to Be Recruited to Full Strength.

Captain McIntyre received, to-day, from headquarters at Albany, a copy of the report of the inspection of the 24th Separte Company, made by Inspector-General Thomas H. McGrath, in September last, in this city.

The following is a synopsis of the report:

The condition of the arms, overcoats, coats, trousers, blouses, helmets and caps is reported as very good.

Belts and brasses very good; brasses clean and bright.

Cartridge boxes good; some want cleaning.

Knapsacks, haversacks and canteens, new.

Adjustment of packs, fair.

Gloves and shoes, clean.

Armory in excellent condition.

Present at inspection three officers and sixty-five enlisted men, a total of sixty-eight. Absent, one officer and three men, a total of four.

Percentage of attendance 94 44,—the highest the company has ever had.

Under the head of "Remarks" the General writes as follows:

"The 24th shows a loss of eight since last muster, which should not be when the new and attractive armory is considered. Middletown should turn out a full company of 100 men. The condition of the company is very good, drill in close and extended order showing that faithful and intelligent work has been done. All State property is in excellent order and well cared for."

Who Will Be Corporal?

Corporal W. R. Rogers, of the 24th, who was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant, has received his warrant, having successfully passed the examination. There is now a vacancy in the list of corporals, and there is much speculation among the privates as to who will secure the prize.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the [illegible] of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in [illegible] these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which [illegible] the trouble.

[illegible] MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for [illegible] and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among [illegible] the facts contained in the above [illegible] that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, [illegible] melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

MAN AND NATURE.

The mountains, and the forests, and the seas,
Oldest of mourners with pathetic tone,
Have each a natural music, all their own,
Set in accord with human destinies,
Sad, tender, manifold. What is more sweet
Than woodland melodies at noon? More mild
Than dimpled ocean, like a laughing child,
That lisps and rolls a jewel to our feet,
Breathlessly calm? And then, within an hour,
Behold that selfsame ocean on the shore
Lashes. The forest quakes with deafening power.
The rocks are rent. Then, oh! amid that roar,
Awestruck we sink, we fall upon our knees,
Ye mountains, and ye forests, and ye seas!

The mountains, and the forests, and the seas,
Have each their music, with our mortal lot
In sympathy, to soothe, exalt, appease,
And man, too, has his music; has a note
Of worldwide sweetness, tender reveries,
Dirges of buried blisses unforgot,
Rejoicing paeans, glorious symphonies,
But all of them lack something. They have not
The voice once heard in Eden, and the ear,
Pleased with rich sound, is as when some one sings
In a great court before a king of kings.
He closes, and of rapture born a cheer
Shakes the high roof, but when the lord of all
Speaks there is awe and silence in the hall.

FABIO'S NOTE.

Of all the merchants in Venice, Fabio Mutinelli was the most exact in keeping his engagements. He was liberal and magnificent on every occasion, and especially with ladies and people of the church. The elegant polity of his manners was celebrated throughout the republic, and people admired at San Zanipolo an altar of gold which he had offered to St. Catherine for love of the beautiful Catherine Manini, wife of the senator, Alesso Conaro. As he was very wealthy, he had many friends, to whom he gave festivals and his purse. But he suffered severe losses in the war against the Genoese and in the troubles of Naples. It happened that 30 of his vessels were captured. So the magnificent Fabio was despoiled in a shore time of all his riches. Having sold his palace and his plate to pay his debts, he found himself destitute of everything. But as he was skillful, courageous, well learned in commerce and in the vigor of age, he thought only of restoring his business. He made many calculations and figured that 500 ducats were necessary for him to attempt new enterprises, from which be expected happy, prompt and certain successes. He asked of Alesso Bontura, who was the richest citizen of the republic, to lend to him these 500 ducats. But the good signor esteemed that if audacity procures great goods prudence alone preserves them, and he refused to expose so large a sum to the peril of sea and fortune. Fabio addressed himself to Andrea Morosini, whom he had formerly favored in different ways.

"Beloved Fabio," replied Andrea, "to others than you I would willingly lend this sum. I have no attachment for gold pieces, and I conform, on this point, to the maxims of Horace, the satirist. But your friendship is dear to me, Fabio Mutinelli, and I would risk its loss if I loaned you money. Most often commerce of the heart goes ill between debtor and creditor. I have seen too many examples of this."

With these words Signor Andrea pretended to embrace the merchant tenderly and shut the door in his face.

At night, as she was returning sadly to his house, the courtesan Zanetta, who was taking a bath in the canal, grasped his gondola and said to Fabio:

"I know your misfortunes. They are the talk of the town. Now listen. I am not rich, but I have some jewels in a small casket. If you accept them, gentle Fabio, I will believe that God and the Virgin love me."

And it was true that, in the newness of her age and in the fine flower of her beauty, Zanetta was poor. Fabio replied:

"Graceful Zanetta, there is more nobility in the house where you live than in all the palaces of Venice."

For three days more Fabio visited the banks and the shops without finding anybody who would lend money to him. Everywhere he received a wicked answer and heard speeches the tone of which was as follows: "You were wrong to sell your plate to pay your debts. One may loan money to a man in debt; one never loans to a man who has neither furniture nor plate."

The fifth day he went in his despair to the Corte Delle Galli, which is also called the Ghetto, and which is the Jewish quarter. "Who knows," he said to himself, "if I may not obtain from a Jew the favor that Christians have refused?" He went through streets the entrance of which, by order of the senate, was barred every night with chains. He remembered having heard of an Israelite named Eleazer, son of Eleazer Maimonides, who was said to be grandly rich and of a mind marvelously subtle. The door of his house was decorated with an image of the seven branched golden candlestick, which the Jew had caused to be made as a sign of hope, in view of the promised day when the temple would rise from its ashes.

The merchant entered a hall lighted by a lamp of brass, the 12 wicks of which were ablaze. The Jew Eleazer was seated before his scales. The windows of his house were walled, because he was an infidel. Fabio Mutinelli talked to him in the following manner:

"Eleazer, I have often called you a dog and a pagan. It happened, when I was younger, that I threw stones and mud at people who passed near the canal wearing a yellow wheel on their shoulders. I tell you this not to insult you, but to be loyal at a time when I come to ask you to do me a great service."

The Jew lifted his arm, which was dry and knotty like a vine.

"Fabio Mutinelli," he said, "the Father who is in heaven will judge you and me. What service do you ask?"

"Lend me 500 ducats for a year."

"One does not lend without security. What is your security?"

"You must know, Eleazer, that I have not even a golden cup, not even a silver goblet. I have nothing. Everybody has refused to do me the service that I ask of you. I have nothing in the world, except my honor as a merchant and my faith as a Christian. I offer to you as security the Holy Virgin Mary and her Divine Son."

At this reply the Jew inclined his head like one meditating and thinking, caressed for an instant his long white beard and said:

"Fabio Mutinelli, lead me to your security, for it is necessary that the lender should be placed in presence of the security that is offered to him."

"It is your right," answered the merchant. "Come!"

He led Eleazer to the Church de l'Orto, near the field which is named after the Moors. There, showing the Madonna, who, standing on the altar, her forehead ornamented with a crown of precious stones, her shoulders covered with a gold embroidered cloak, held in her arms the infant Jesus, decked like his mother, the merchant said to the Jew, "This is my security."

Eleazer looked with a subtle eye at the Christian merchant, the Madonna and the child, bent his head and said that he accepted the security. He brought Fabio back to his house and gave to him 500 ducats, saying:

"This is yours for a year. If in a year from now, day for day, you have not returned to me this sum, with the interest fixed by the law of Venice and the custom of the Lombards, imagine, Fabio Mutinelli, what I will think of the Christian merchant and of his security!"

Fabio, without loss of time, bought vessels and loaded them with salt and various other merchandise, which he disposed of in the cities of the Adriatic at a great profit. Then, with a new cargo, he sailed for Constantinople, where he bought carpets, perfumes, peacock feathers, ivory and ebony, which his clerks exchanged on the coast of Dalmatia for lumber, which was bought from him in advance by the Venetians. By this means he multiplied ten times in six months the sum which he had received.

But one day that he was in a bark on the Bosporus with Greek women be was taken by pirates and brought captive into Egypt. Happily his gold and his merchandise were safe. The pirates sold him to a Saracen lord, who, having put his feet in irons, commanded him to cultivate the wheat, which is beautiful in that country. He offered ransom, but the daughter of the Saracen lord, who loved him, dissuaded her father from surrendering him at any price. He filed his irons with the instruments that he used to cultivate the fields, fled, reached the Nile and went out to sea.

After eight days of travel in a Spanish ship, which had picked him up, a tempest threw him on the coast of Dalmatia. The entire crew was drowned, and Fabio, supported by a chicken coop, reached the coast with great difficulty. He fell insensible and was brought to the house of a widow, who was quite beautiful and whose name was Loreta. When he regained consciousness, he was surrounded by perfume of myrtles and roses, and he saw from his window a garden which descended gradually to the sea. Mme. Loreta took her violin and played tenderly. Fabio, in his gratitude, kissed her hands a thousand times. Then he asked what was the day of the month. When she told him, he began to groan and to lament at the thought that in 24 hours the year would be ended, and the date would come when he would fail to return the 500 ducats which he had borrowed from the Jew Eleazer. Mme. Loreta having asked the cause of his despair, he made it known to her. As she was a woman of great piety and very faithful to the Holy Mother of God, she sympathized with him. There was no difficulty in obtaining the 500 ducats, but none could think of going from the coast of Dalmatia to Venice in 24 hours in a bad sea and with contrary winds. "Let us have the money in the first place," said Fabio.

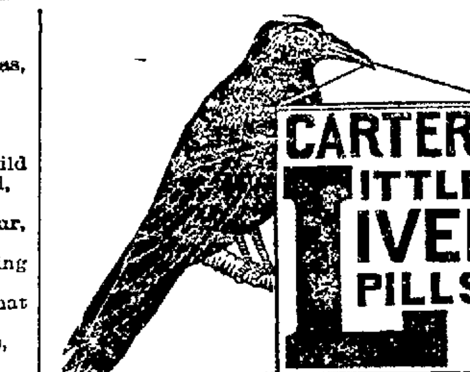

When a servant of his hostess had brought the money to him, the noble merchant asked for a bark, which he filled with bags containing the ducats. Then he took from Mme. Loreta's oratory an image of the Virgin with the infant Jesus, which was made of cedar wood and was very venerable. He placed it in the bark near the rudder, and he said to the image:

"Madam, you are my security. The Jew Eleazer must be paid tomorrow. My honor and yours are at stake, madam, and also the renown of your Son. What a mortal sinner like me may not do you shall surely accomplish, pure star of the sea, you whose breast nourishes the one who walked on waves. Take this money to the Jew Eleazer, in the Ghetto of Venice, so that the Jews will not say that you are bad security." Having pushed the bark in the wave, he took off his hat and said softly: "Adieu, madam." For a long time the merchant and the widow followed the bark with their eyes. The night fell. A furrow of light was traced in the peaceful sea.

The next morning Eleazer, having opened his door, saw in the narrow canal of the Ghetto a bark loaded with bags and guided by a little figure of black wood, resplendent with the clearness of dawn. The bark stopped before the house where was carved the seven branched golden candlestick. The Jew recognized the Virgin Mary and the infant Jesus, security of the Christian merchant.—Echo.

Calhoun and Randolph.

When John C. Calhoun became vice president of the United States, and consequently president of the senate, he announced that he had not the authority to call the senators to order for words spoken in debate, as he regarded each senator as an embassador from a sovereign state. The eccentric John Randolph of Virginia took advantage of Mr. Calhoun's ruling to abuse him personally. One day he began a tirade by saying: "Mr. Speaker! I mean Mr. President of the senate and would be president of the United States, which God in his infinite mercy avert!"—Exchange.

QUITE SHOCKING.

A Stranger Who Allowed the Baby to Unduly Interest Her.

It was about 9 o'clock in the evening, and the West side cable car rattled and lurched along. The passengors were few, and they cast half curious, half hostile glances at each other. A young couple with a child of about a year and a half old attracted the most attention, however.

"Isn't it disgraceful how young some people marry?" whisperd the old maid passenger to the mother of seven.

"It isn't only that, my dear. I married when a child, a mere child myself. But look how carelessly she holds the poor little thing."

The young couple, all unconscious, pursued a lively conversation.

"Shall you be able to go to the dance tomorrow evening?" he asked.

"Oh, yes! I don't intend to miss a single waltz either. Do sit still, baby."

"I suppose the hired girl will watch the baby and like as not let the poor little thing catch its death of cold," said the mother of seven in a piercing whisper.

"I only hope you will save one or two for me," grumbled the young man. The ladies opposite exchanged significant whispers.

"I'll try. Do hold him for a little while, George. He wriggles so."

"I would if I knew how to take hold of him. It's worse than a wrestling match."

"A pretty father!" groaned the old maid. "No more sense of responsibility than a kitten." They both looked disapprovingly at the young man, who had given the baby his pocketknife to play with.

The mother of seven caught his eye a moment or two later.

"How old is the baby?" she asked, with the air of a person about to administer a dose of good advice.

"I—why, I'm sure I don't know," he stammered. "Do you, Milly?"

"Why, let me see. About 20 months old, I guess. Yes, he was 3 months old when I made that lovely visit to Milwaukee."

"And left him to the care of servants no doubt," whispered the old maid, delightfully horrified.

"And how many teeth has he?" pursued the mother of seven. "And what do you give him to prevent convulsions? I always give mine"—

"I—I don't know, I'm sure. George, stop the car, won't you? It is so hot in here that I'd rather walk the rest of the way."

"Don't know how many teeth your own baby has! Why, in my day young parents"—

"My own baby! Good gracious, madam, he isn't mine. He is my sister's child. He has been spending the day with me, and now I'm taking him home. Oh, George, will the car never stop?"

And a very demoralized young couple with a crying baby stumbled off, while the old maid and the mother of seven looked out of opposite windows with a majestic air.—Chicago Tribune.

The Limit.

She—Ah, men don't know what women have to bear! They suffer in silence.

He—I know. That's their greatest suffering.

He Followed Her.

A clever girl who could make a sensation in society if fate had been a little more kind to her in a material way lives on a side street and is a constant source of amusement and joy to her little circle of friends. She is poor. She is compelled to turn and return her gowns trim and retrim her bonnets and make all sorts of little sacrifices and all because fate decreed that her father should be a quiet, unambitious, conscientious, dreaming sort of a fellow instead of a bustling money making successful merchant. This girl has brains and good looks and, what is far better, originality, but she is compelled very often to walk because she has no car fare. She amuses herself with all sorts of things that other girls seldom think of. Her latest exploit is a class of Chinamen into whose wooden heads she is endeavoring to inject a faint idea of the limitations of the English language and incidentally the Christian religion.

In her class on a recent Sunday she was giving Ching Poi an object lesson on the wonderful creations of God.

"See, Ching," she said, "see this beautiful rose. God made this rose. He made it to look pretty and smell sweet. God made all things, Ching. He made you, and he made me. Now, tell me, Ching, who made the rose?"

Ching grinned and said, "God, he makee lose."

"That's right, Ching. Now, why did he make the rose?"

"He makee lose to look pletty and smellee sweet."

"That's right. Who made you, Ching?"

"God makee me," replied Ching. "He makee me to look pletty and smellee sweet."

She is endeavoring to teach the Chinaman a few other things, but will let personal similes with the rose rest for awhile.—Kansas City Star.

Making Law.

"How is the law made?" asked the instructor in United States history in a private school of one of the young girls in his class.

"Oh," replied the maiden cheerfully, "the senate has to ratify it, and then the president has to—has to veto it, and then the house of representatives has to"—she hesitated for a moment and knit her pretty forehead. "Oh, yes, I remember now!" she said. "The house of representatives has to adjourn until the next session."—Youth's Companion.

Within Bounds.

Mrs. Plankington—I think I'll have my old hat retrimmed.

Plankington—That's more than I can afford.

Mrs. Plankington—Then what shall I do?

Plankington—Get a new one.—Clothier and Furnisher.

WHAT YOUR THUMB TELLS.

Square Type.

The thumb is an unfailing index of character. The Square Type indicates a strong will, great energy and firmness. Closely allied is the Spatulated Type, the thumb of those of advanced ideas and business ability. Both of these types belong to the busy man or woman, and Demorest's Family Magazine prepares especially for such persons a whole volume of new ideas condensed in a small space so that the record of the whole world's work for a month may be read in half an hour. The Conical Type indicates refinement, culture and a love of music, poetry, and fiction. A person with this type of thumb will thoroughly enjoy the literary attractions of Demorest's Magazine. The Artistic Type indicates a love of beauty and art, which will find rare pleasure in the magnificent oil-picture of roses 10½ x 24 inches reproduced from the original painting by De Longpre, the most celebrated of living flower-painters, which will be given to every subscriber to Demorest's Magazine for 1895. The cost of this superb work of art was $350.00 and the reproduction cannot be distinguished from the original. Besides this, an exquisite oil or water-color picture is published in each number of the Magazine, and the articles are so profusely and superbly illustrated that the Magazine is, in reality, a portfolio of art works of the highest order. The Philosophic Type is the thumb of the thinker and inventor of ideas, who will be deeply interested in these developed monthly in Demorest's Magazine, in every one of its numerous departments, which cover the entire artistic and scientific field, chronicling every fact, fancy, and fad of the day. GOSHEN, Nov. 23—Ex-Supervisor John F. Graham, of Blooming Grove, as attorney for the heirs of Ezra J. Ostrander, drafted in 1864, asked the Board to add $891 to the audits of Woodbury, in payment of claim for commutation paid on account of the draft.

Mr. Patterson, of Woodbury, thought it a matter for the courts.

Mr. Loughran, of the law committee, said as he interpreted the law claim should be presented to the County Treasurer.

Mr. Adams thought if litigation arose over such claims as this, the town interested and not the county should pay.

Several names, ommitted by mistake, were added to Monroe's assessment list.

On motion of Mr. Fredericks unpaid taxes for road machines were assessed on highway districts.

A resolution was passed allowing Chester to raise for highway purposes $1 721 72 and $250 in addition to the $250 allowed by law.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

On report of the Law Committee $490 was ordered levied on Hamptonburgh to pay the claim of the heirs of George Halsey, sometimes known as George Smith, one of the drafted men of that town.

In the matter of Mr. Wells's resolution in regard to the sale of the old Surrogate building to the Goshen Library Association, the Law Committee reported, without recommendation, that the language of the statute gave the county the right "to sell, lease and apply to other county use the sites and buildings, when site is changed and, if sold, apply proceeds to the payment for new sites, buildings and improvements."

Rev. R. B. Clark, pastor of the Goshen Presbyterian Church addressed the Board in behalf of the Library Association. He reminded the Board that the Goshen Presbyterian Church, which owned a tract about a mile square, had conveyed to the county for a consideration of one dollar the land on which the county buildings now stand and recently, during his pastorate, had given more land and so helped make it possible for the Board to meet in such pleasant rooms as it now occupies. He said that the Surrogate building was fireproof and met all the requirements of a library building and since it was not now needed by the county he earnestly hoped that the Board would give the matter favorable consideration.

Mr. J. W. Gott also spoke in behalf of the Library Association. He said there were but two propositions to consider whether Board had right to sell and whether it was expedient to dispose of the building. He thought it probable that the county would need more room in the course of half a century, but at present the building was of little or no use to the county. It was not available for residence or business uses, and not altogether desirable for office use and returned the county but a small rental. It seemed to him that the county would do well to dispose of it.

Mr. Durland, of Warwick, and Mr. Loughran, spoke in opposition to a sale of the building. Both thought it should be used as a Treasurer's office. Mr. Loughran said that while it was true that the Goshen Presbyterian Church had given the county the site of the county buildings, the location of the buildings in Goshen had made that village what it was. The gift had been a good thing for Goshen and its Presbyterian Church. He also made the interesting statement that there was no record in the Clerk's office of the transfer of the land to the county. A deed had no doubt been given, but it had probably been lost.

On motion of Mr. Adams the matter was referred back to the Law Committee.

The drafted man's claim on Woodbury was made a special order for Monday afternoon.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in committee work.

MARRIAGE CUSTOMS.

Radical Changes That Have Taken Place In England.

Marriage customs have changed everywhere with the advance of civilization. Anglo-Saxons in ancient times, it is said, used to capture their wives by force from their fathers or their husbands, it did not matter which.

This was before Augustine came to preach Christianity. Then purchase was more common than capture, although the latter seems to have been frequent enough to the reign of Ethelbert to need regulation by law. By this law a man might run away with a woman, provided he afterward paid her previous owner, be he father or husband, 50 shillings. If it was husband who had thus been deprived of his wife, the woman's captor had not only to pay him the fine, but also to buy him another wife. In any case the stolen woman belonged to her captor.

If a man had purchased his bride in the days of Ethelbert and afterward concluded he had paid too much for her, it was lawful for him to return her to her former owner and claim again the purchase price, provided that he had not previously expressed satisfaction by making the bride a present on the morning after the wedding.

The next step was the "foster lien," when the bride price was paid on the day of espousal and was supposed to compensate the parent for the cost of bringing up his daughter. It seems, however, that this soon fell into disrepute, as there was no law against the father's engaging his daughter to numerous suitors, taking from each the "foster lien," and, of course, cheating all but one on the wedding day, which, at that time, was only the day of betrothal, when the suitor gave a "wed" or pledge for the future performance of his contract. If the suitor did not claim his bride within two years after the wedding day, he forfeited all right to her and to whatever money or goods he had paid for her. If the woman or her father broke their promises, the father had to give the suitor four times as much as the suitor had already paid him.

As civilization advanced the bride price was given to the woman herself and became her dowry, while nowadays the tables are frequently turned, and the bride settles the money on her husband.—Kate Field's Washington.

An Improvement—Large Quantities of Apples Shipped—A Very Mean Man—A Joke on a Boodler—Glad to Hear of an Indictment.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—Mr. A. H. Drew has been engaged some time repairing his house on the farm recently purchased of the Waterbury estate. Mr. Drew exhibits considerable taste in matters pertaining to building.

—John Woodruff has bought twenty-two carloads of cider apples, this fall. The apples were shipped to an eastern fruit company.

—The meanest thing in this world is a mean man. One of those selfish creatures asked a little school girl to pay for a ride in a lumber wagon while on her way home from school.

—John H. Lines has shipped from the New Milford station in the neighborhood of 5,000 barrels of winter apples.

—The best thing that happened in this election district in many a year occurred last election day, when a "boodle handler" sacrificed his right to vote by paying a Democrat in flour to cast his vote for Morton. The joke on the boodler is enjoyed by everbody except the victim.

—Many were pleased to hear of the indictment of Augustus McClare, the negro, who struck and nearly killed a man by the name of Sims, a few weeks ago.

HOWELLS.

Out of the Hospital—A Successful Fair—A Busy Factory.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—The many friends of Mr. George Pelton will be pleased to hear of his return home, after three weeks spent in Hunt's Hospital at Port Jervis, whither he went because of an injury sustained while at work on his engine.

—The fair held by the Ladies Aid Society, in the church, last week, was very successful, about $73 having been realized.

—As usual, at this time of year, felt boots are in great demand and in consequence, Mr. Oldroyd is rushed with orders.

Sheep Killed by Dogs.

THE SENSIBLE VIEW.

WOMAN'S SENSITIVE ORGANISM

Does Not Permit Her to Do What Men Do, and She Ought Not To Try.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

You might as well know that you have a wonderfully sensitive and peculiar organism. You ought to know that from the moment the girl is changed into a woman, the matter of first physical importance to her is the regularity with which nature purifies her system. That all through life this is of the very first importance to her, and that neglect in this direction means misery in every direction.

Stop and reason out what happens when nature is balked in its efforts. The blood takes up the poisonous particles, carries them to the lungs, and decay follows. It carries them to the heart, and before long the organ is weakened, and your courage and strength vanish. It carries them to the brain, and before long the wildest fancies run riot, you think you have every known disease.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one remedy whose power over this killing disease is acknowledged throughout the world.

It destroys poisonous germs, cleanses the system, strengthens the womb, and makes a strong, hopeful, happy woman out of a physical wreck.

Mrs. J. A. Rice, of Florence, Ky., whose portrait we are permitted to publish, is only one of many thousands who owe their health to the Vegetable Compound, and are doing all they can to help other women to believe that the same health and happiness will come to them with the use of Mrs. Pinkham's medicines. She says:

"I suffered eight years from woman's early troubles. I could find no permanent relief until, one year ago, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Relief then came with it almost immediately, and at this time I am a well woman.

"I absolutely know, not only by my own experience, but by others also, that it is a harmless and sure remedy for irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness of the stomach, sick headache, and female complaints generally."
